The IAGenWeb Project is part of the USGenWeb Project, a group of volunteers working together to provide Internet websites for genealogical research in every Iowa county. The project is non-commercial and fully committed to free access for everyone.

We have been selected by Family Tree Magazine (FTM) 2010-2015 Best State Websites.

I O W A

The IAGenWeb Project

IAGenWeb was founded on August 6, 1996, by a few people dedicated to having genealogical information free on the Internet.

Today, the IAGenWeb project consists of volunteers working to transcribe data, develop web sites and respond to questions on the 99 county sites.

Programs on the IAGenWeb server have enabled us to achieve new heights in the gathering and presentation of genealogical information. They include:

- Iowa Genealogy Boards that now have thousands of names in obituaries, news items, biographies and more.
- Gravestone Photo Project that contains over 1 million photos.
- Search engines that can search all of the county boards.

These advancements were made possible by the Friends of IAGenWeb, a 501(c)(3) organization whose sole purpose is to fund the IAGenWeb project.
